

SPRING 2024 EVENTS

Be sure and check both sides ~ we've got a lot happening!

Planting with a Purpose Series – These events are In Person unless noted Classes are FREE but registration is required.

March 3 at 1pm ~ Growing Dinner: this event is geared to new vegetable gardeners.

Do you want to grow healthy, flavorful vegetables? This talk will help you to choose the right varieties, maximize your growing areas and have crops to harvest from June through December. Whether you're planting in the ground, in a raised bed or in containers, this class will help you to grow the most flavorful food on earth.

March 9 at 10am ~ Beginning Your Herb Garden with Betsy Williams: Have you been wanting an herb garden for your kitchen but weren't sure where to start? Nothing enhances meals like the taste of fresh herbs! Learn how to choose the perfect site for a thriving culinary herb garden, when to plant and how to grow the 10 most popular culinary herbs.

March 16 at 10am ~ Biochar, the best new thing in ancient technology: What it is, how to use it, and how it will greatly increase the productivity of your soil while helping to save the planet at the same time. Grow bigger, better, healthier plants while also sequestering CO2 from the atmosphere. Carbonsmart gardening is available to you. Bob Wells, biochar producer and expert will explain and answer your questions.

March 17 at 1pm ~ Bird Gardens: learn how your landscape can be beautiful and beneficial for songbirds. Hear how to create a bird sanctuary around your home. Discover plants and practices that can make your yard an oasis for Cape Cod birds.

April 6 at 1pm ~ Best Organic Lawn Practices: our turf expert, Dekes, will share the secrets for growing a lush and healthy lawn utilizing the best organic lawn practices.

April 7 at 1pm ~ Family Fun: Hear about plant projects and activities that your kids will love. Learn how family activities in the garden can cultivate back yard beauty and joy. Take home a list of ideas for a year of plant-based activities.

April 13 at 1pm ~ Open Up Your Pond: Have you got a fish pond or water garden at your home? This talk will cover the steps to open your pond and tips to keep it running successfully all season.

April 21 - Rabbit Resistant (virtual): All over Cape Cod gardeners and home landscapers are cursing those wascally wabbits! In this virtual presentation, you'll learn which plants rabbits leave alone, and how to "train" thumper not to eat certain plants. Please note this presentation will not be recorded.

Please check our events page often as we will be adding Make-and-Take Workshops and more!
